

FileWave Alliance Forums

Everyone who uses FileWave appreciates learning more about it, but attending training is hard - we get it! That's why we created the Foundry and the Alliance Forums. In the Foundry, you'll find self-paced video learning and our FileWave Certified Administrator program. In the Alliance Forums, you'll find your peers to run ideas past, and you can share your great solution to help others! The Alliance Forums are read-only when you first go there but pick to login, and you can post and interact. We've done this to protect the forums from spam. The login is the same SSO login we use for Support tickets and the Foundry. If you've never signed in to either, try picking "Forgot Password," and if that doesn't work, please reach out to customer.experience@filewave.com and they can help ensure that you are listed as a contact for your organization.
