

Report Groups

What

Report Groups are used for basic report organization.

When/Why

Over time, you'll find that hundreds of reports will clutter up your Reports view. Report groups give you a way to organize reports into logical groups and enable us to navigate the user interface more easily. Report groups server no purpose other than organization, unlike payload groups which have dual purpose. Report groups can not be nested, and must all have a unique name.

How

Creation of a report group is quite simple as you'll see below, where we both create a group and then Move a report into it:
