

Tree / List View Toggle

What

The Tree/List View option within the Devices view allows you to toggle between a traditional "tree" or "directory" type of view and a more "flat" view that just shows endpoints.

When/Why

In the Tree view (the default), as you navigate the group structure on the left, you will only see devices and groups on the right that are specifically in that group. In the list view, if you click on the same group, you will only see the devices in that and all downstream groups (you won't see any nested groups).

How

In the below, we'll show you an example of toggling between the views from the same location so you can see the difference:
