FileWave Anywhere persistent user preferences (14.8+)

What

As a user of FileWave Anywhere, I frequently have to resize columns when I'm using it.

When/Why

In v14.8.0 we have introduced the ability to store preferences about column width so that when you login columns will retain their size as appropriate.

How

User preferences in main views will be stored on the user account:

- Pinned columns
- Width of the columns
- Visibility of the columns
- Order of the columns

User preferences in main views will be stored in the active session:

- Filters
- Quick filters
- Search
- Applied sorting on a column

Profiles section error handling improvements:

- Error handling in the profiles is more user friendly and the mandatory fields are better highlighted

---