

Background Login Items Notification Suppression (macOS Ventura+)

What

macOS 13 Ventura includes new functionality in the new System Settings app to control services like LaunchAgents and LaunchDaemons — Apple is (confusingly) calling this Login Items (found in Settings->General). By default, Apple has chosen to display notifications to the user when these items are installed.

When/Why

As a system administrator, you may not want these to display for your users. The example profile from this article will suppress notifications like this.

How

Download the attached Fileset and assign it to your MDM-enrolled macOS Ventura devices.
